

MRS. EASTMAN AND EDWARDS MARRIED

Justice of Peace Ties Knot After Two Ministers Had Refused.

CEREMONY AT ASHEVILLE

First Wife Fails to Appear, Having Gone to Norfolk to Consult Lawyers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., November 17.—Mrs. Sophia Harrison Eastman, of Chicago, and Baker Edwards, of Norfolk, were married at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Justice of the Peace Waddell, at the office of her attorneys, Adams and Adams, Rev. Dr. Campbell, of the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Gilbert Rowe, of the Central Methodist Church, having declined on ecclesiastical grounds, to perform the ceremony. Preston H. Harrison and Mrs. Owsley, both of Chicago, brother and sister of the bride, were present. Mrs. Baker Edwards, who was expected here to enter objection to the marriage, failed to do so, going instead to Norfolk to consult with her lawyers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., November 17.—Declaring that she had received no notice of her husband applying for a divorce, and that she knew nothing of his having secured a divorce from her until she read in the papers that he was about to be married in Asheville, N. C., and that he claimed to be a divorced man, Mrs. Baker Edwards declares that she is in Norfolk for the purpose of investigating the legality of the divorce granted, and expects to fight the case if there is a peg on which to hang a suit.

Now, if this divorce that he has gotten here is legal, my plane are all knocked out," she explained. "But anyhow, I am going to have the matter looked into and my lawyer will do whatever there is to be done in the premises."

Secured Divorce.
Baker E. Edwards secured his divorce in the Court of Law and Chancery here. The suit was instituted last summer. Mrs. Edwards being non-resident of Virginia, publication of the divorce action was made under the Virginia law once a week for four weeks. Fifteen days later testimony was taken before Commissioner Bruce Simmons in Norfolk and also in New York City. Evidence taken in New York showed that in the presence of a trial magistrate in that city, before whom Mr. Edwards was arraigned, charged with interfering with the boarding-house business of his wife, the latter, after being cautioned as to the effect of her words, and she wanted Edwards to remain away from her and did not care for his support any longer, Edwards' plea of desertion in his divorce bill was sustained and Judge Hancock, sitting in the Court of Law and Chancery, on October 4th granted the divorce, which is absolute.

As soon as Baker Edwards heard that the divorce had been granted he wrote to Norfolk to know the earliest possible date upon which the decree would be final, saying that "there would be something doing" after this. The October term of court did not adjourn finally until Saturday, November 14th, and the decree was not final until that date, but on Saturday Edwards was notified that he was a free man to marry again if he desired.

SOME NEW AGES IN LEGISLATURE

A Glance at Three New North Carolina Congressmen Elected by Republicans.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., November 17.—Now that the smoke of the great political battle in North Carolina that has wrought such radical changes in the political status of the State, reducing the Democratic majorities from about 50,000 to around 20,000, and changing the congressional representation from ten Democratic to seven Democratic and three Republican, has in a considerable measure cleared away, a glance at the personnel of the three new Congressmen, all Republican, will be of particular interest.

Hon. J. Motley Morehead, Congressman-elect from the Fifth District, who defeated the Democratic incumbent by 250 votes, is thirty-six years old, a grandson of the famous Governor Morehead, the first Governor of North Carolina, who perfected in a large measure the internal improvement system of the State, and has the honor of having the coat of arms of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad. Morehead City, named for him, the new Congressman has never been active in politics. A native of Charlotte, he graduated at the University of North Carolina and entered the cotton manufacturing business, having now large interests in mills, especially in Rockingham county.

At the congressional convention in Charlotte there were a half-dozen aspirants for the nomination, but it was referred to Mr. Morehead, who was at the time in New York on business. He visited his campaign headquarters in Greensboro. He made scarcely a half-dozen speeches during the whole campaign, but he was active in private through pamphlets, circulars and the newspapers.

Representative Cowles.

Hon. Charles H. Cowles, of Wilkes County, Republican Congressman-elect from the Eighth District, is thirty-four years old, a native of North Carolina, and has been active in the Democratic party since he attained his majority. He is a grandson of Governor W. W. Holden, who was impeached by the North Carolina legislature in 1871, and who was elected to Congress from the district in 1872. His mother was Governor Holden's daughter, and he is the son of his father's side has been active in Republican politics several generations. His father was assayer of the United States Mint in Charlotte, and his mother, the daughter of a general of the North Carolina militia, was a member of the North Carolina legislature from Wilkes county, was chairman of the congressional district when Spencer Blackburn was elected to Congress from the district in 1891.

Representative Grant.

Hon. John G. Grant, Congressman-elect (Republican) from the Ninth District, is thirty-two years old, a native of Henderson county, and has been active in Western Carolina politics for a number of years. He was elected to Congress in 1891, and in the race for Congress he had a joint canvass with his opponent, Congressman Hackett, and in spite of the fact that the last Legislature has taken away a Republican county, by 500 to 700 generally, out of the district, he was elected. He is a native of Henderson county, and he has been active in the internal revenue service since 1891. ONE SIDE OF HEAD ENTIRELY BALD

Hair Began Falling Out After a Severe Illness—Consulted Several Barbers without Satisfaction—Friend Cured Same Trouble with Cuticura and Advised Its Use.

CUTICURA REMEDIES EFFECTED HIS CURE

"After a severe attack of sickness my hair fell out all over. One side of my head was completely bald. I was frightened, not knowing what to do for it. I was almost wild. I consulted several barbers with no satisfaction. A friend of mine told me that his hair fell out in patches all over. He had secured a set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent which stopped his itching scalp and made it grow again as thick as ever. He induced me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I began using them and in forty days, more or less, noticed my hair coming out all over the bald spots. I was so glad I did not know how to praise the greatness of Cuticura. I used three boxes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment and two bottles of Resolvent Pills. I can prove by numbers of persons that I was bald before using the Cuticura Remedies, and you may use my name as a guarantee of their wonderful cure. George Simmons, 1630 So. Franklin St., New Orleans, La., October 10 and 22, 1907."

THREE SUSPECTS HELD BY POLICE

Believed to Know Something of Death of Richmond Man in Raleigh.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., November 17.—Three persons suspected of some connection with the mysterious death of E. W. Smith, traveling salesman for the White Oak Coal Company, Richmond, Sunday, out at the city lock quarry. The police charged that the negro henchman was seen early Sunday morning driving to the vicinity of the rock quarry, with a drunken white man and another man riding with him. Hopkings is charged with being the third party, and the theory is that E. W. Smith was the man they had. They don't undertake to say whether the two put Smith out and left him to his fate, so that he wandered over the embankment to his death, or whether they actually pitched him into the quarry to cover a robbery.

There was a report that the missing diamond ring and watch were found on Hopkings, but the police deny this. They doubt that they will be able to get enough evidence to hold the woman, who was arrested merely for telling conflicting stories about having seen some other woman and a man resembling Smith walk out toward the quarry, and the woman return later alone.

The police seem to be working on a theory that Smith was drugged for robbery, and that, falling to come around as he ought, he was taken to the quarry and thrust over the embankment to avoid detection. Hopkings claims he was drunk Sunday morning, and don't remember whether he was out, as charged, or not.

Had Hydrophobia.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., November 17.—As the result of being bitten about ten days ago by a pot fox-terrier, a cow and a valuable carriage horse belong to Mr. James R. Gilliam had to be shot because they developed unmistakable evidences of hydrophobia. The cow was killed late last week and the horse was shot on Sunday.

The dogs disappeared soon after the animals were bitten, and not the slightest trace has since been discovered of it. It is not there any idea as to where it went or how many other animals were bitten by it before it disappeared.
